New York Law Limiting Initial Opioid Prescribing Goes Into Effect Friday, July 22

In an effort to curb prescription opioid abuse, New York passed legislation that limits prescriptions of Schedule II, III, or IV opioids to seven days upon initial consultation or treatment of acute pain. This new law will go into effect on Friday, July 22, 2016. Here are additional details:

- Acute pain is defined in NYS Public Health law as pain, whether resulting from disease, accidental or intentional trauma, or other cause, that the practitioner reasonably expects to last only a short period of time.
- This rule SHALL NOT include chronic pain, pain being treated as part of cancer care, hospice or other end-of-life- care or pain being treated as part of palliative care practices.
- Upon subsequent consultations for the same pain, the practitioner may issue, in accordance with existing rules and regulations, any appropriate renewal, refill, or new prescription for an opioid.
- Application of co-pays for the initial prescription of an opioid are also limited by the measure. The co-pay can now be applied in one of two ways:
  1. A proportionate amount between the co-payment for a thirty day supply and the amount of drugs the patient was prescribed; or
  2. The equivalent to the copay for the full thirty-day supply provided that no additional co-pays may be charged for any additional prescriptions for the remainder of the thirty-day supply
- Pharmacists are NOT required to verify with the prescriber whether an opioid prescription written for greater than a 7-day supply is in accordance with the statutory requirements. Pharmacists may continue to dispense opioids as prescribed, consistent with current laws, regulations, and Medicaid policies.

Additional information on opioids and this law may be obtained by contacting the NYS Department of Health's Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement at 1-866-811-7957 or by clicking here.

Financial Relief for Physician Policyholders in 2016

MLMIC Announces NO Rate Increase for July 1, 2016- July 1, 2017

MLMIC recently announced great news for physician policyholders. In fact, they have three pieces of great news related to rates, dividends and discounts, and each will provide some financial relief in this difficult environment. Here are the details:

1. No rate increase - For the second consecutive year, there will be NO rate increase for physician policyholders on July 1. The Superintendent of Insurance has accepted MLMIC's recommendation that the rates remain unchanged for all physician policyholders for July 1, 2016 – July 1, 2017.

2. 20% dividend credited - The 2016 dividend appears on current physician invoices. As previously reported this year, MLMIC declared a 20% dividend for policyholders who were insured on May 1, 2016 and maintained continuous coverage through July 1. The 20% dividend is based on the standard annual rate of premium in effect on May 1, 2016 and is reflected as a credit on a physician's invoice. This is the largest dividend declared in MLMIC's history, and it will hopefully provide meaningful relief to policyholders. Since inception, MLMIC has paid over $400 million in dividends to policyholders, a feat unmatched by competitors operating in New York State.
3. Additional claims-free discounts – MLMIC is also very pleased to announce the approval of a 12% discount for qualified physicians that have been claims free for ten years. This is an expansion of their 7.5% claims free discount program that was introduced in 2011. Therefore, a policyholder may now qualify for either a 7.5% or a 12% claims free discount as follows:
  - 7.5% to qualified physicians and surgeons who (1) have been continuously in practice for a minimum of five years and (2) have no open claims (or suits) and no closed claims (or suits) with indemnity or expense within the past five years (regardless of the accident date or report date).
  - 12% to qualified physicians and surgeons who (1) have been continuously in practice for a minimum of 10 years and (2) have no open claims (or suits) and no closed claims (or suits) with indemnity or expense within the past 10 years (regardless of the accident date or report date).

In order to see if the discount has been applied to your premium, please refer to the "Premium Summary" included in your renewal policy. If you are receiving the discount, a "Claims Free Discount" line item will appear as part of your premium calculation.

NYACP continues to work with the Medical Liability Mutual Insurance Company (MLMIC) on issues of importance to our members and remains one of the Chapter's most valuable membership benefits.

Late-breaking news: This week MLMIC has entered into an agreement to be acquired by National Indemnity Company, a subsidiary of Berkshire Hathaway. Additional information and details are available here and will be discussed in future e-alerts as the agreement is formalized.
