NYACP Requests Critical Care Guidelines and Immunity from Liability from Governor Cuomo for COVID-19 Related Patient Care

On March 25th NYACP sent a letter to Governor Cuomo requesting the promulgation of critical care guidelines by the Department of Health for use in allocating ventilators among patients in the event of shortages, and immunity from liability for physicians following these guidelines. Importantly, decisions related to ventilator allocation that exclude patients from eligibility, triage and prioritize individuals, and/or direct patients to be extubated are medical determinations that may run counter to current standards of care. An article in today's NY Times reviews the issues and references the NYACP Letter.

NYACP is grateful to Governor Cuomo for his leadership and for immunities from civil liability granted in Executive Order 202.10 which was issued on March 23rd. However, criminal and professional liability, as well as liability for deviating from current standards of care, are not specifically included in the Executive Order.

The NYACP March 25th letter hopes to open a dialogue with Governor Cuomo's office to address these concerns.
